PARADE OF CHILDREN IN THE GARDEN CONTESTS

The parade that was planned by the League of Good Citizenship for this afternoon was carried out under the direction of the executive committee of the organization, although the marchers were few.

The column was led by the Industrial school band and the line of march was from Hudson avenue and Twenty-fourth street, west to Lincoln avenue, south to Twenty-fifth street, east of Washington avenue and north to Twenty-second street. At Twenty-second street, the marchers boarded a street car and were taken to the Glenwood park ball grounds, where they are now enjoying the contest between the Ogden and Salt Lake teams.

Early in the season 500 children enrolled with the league, for the garden, lawn and porch basket contests and when today's parade and trip to the ball game was planned by J. J. Andrews, of the executive committee, it was thought that a majority of the contestants would come out. They failed to do so, however, and less than fifty were in the parade.

Mrs. R. B. Porter, chairman of the League of Good Citizenship, stated this afternoon that the contest judges have reported that much more interest is being taken by the children in the contests this year than was noted at this time last year.

AGENTS OBEYING WILSON'S ORDER

Washington, Aug. 14.—Agents of the department of commerce began their work today as part of the investigation ordered by President Wilson to determine if food prices in this country are being artificially raised because of the European war.

These instructions were sent to field agents in New York, Boston, Seattle, Chicago, Atlanta and New Orleans.

Instructions to Agents.

"You are instructed to inquire immediately and carefully whether there has been a recent rise in retail prices in your city and vicinity, and if so on what articles and to what extent."

"Special attention should be given to foodstuffs and articles of clothing and other necessities. Learn whether the advance, if it exists, is general or confined to particular commodities, and if so, what ones. Find if it has been sudden or gradual and if any articles have fallen in price. Learn what reasons are given for any advance that may have occurred and inquire particularly as to whether such reasons are the actual ones."

"Give special care to determining if there has been any advance due to speculation, either on the general war situation, or on the temporary delay in ocean transit. Consider whether a fair stock exists or is available of any commodity that may have been advanced and whether the facts show a purpose to use the war situation to secure undue extra profits by increased prices."

"Study to learn if any combination exists to advance of prices under existing conditions. When the facts shall have been determined satisfactorily to give a clear idea of the present situation, report them promptly to the chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and continue the inquiry subject to his instructions."
